

Snake River Steelhead - its a Wrap!

Snake river steelhead fishing started the season off with a big bang. The fishing was some of the best we have experienced in awhile. Double digit numbers of both hatchery and native fish.

Plenty of sunshine and lack of rain made for a great season as well. To those of you who had the pleasure of fishing with Kain's on the Snake River this season, thank you.

If there are a few of you that are still thinking about going Steelhead Fishing give us a call to book.

Halibut Update
The International Pacific Halibut Commission announced its 2012 stock assessments. Based on the initial presentation by staff, the 2012 Total Constant Exploitable Yield is projected to be 5.865 million lbs. which means a 2012 GHJL of .931 million lbs.-an increase over 2011's GHJL of .788 million lbs.

Happy Holidays!

We wish you a Wonderful Holiday Season!

Fishing with Jack..

Greg had the pleasure of fishing Steelhead on the Snake River with Jack for 2 days in late October. Jack is the son of Adam, a client of Kain's whom has fished in Sitka and in the Pacific Northwest through the years with Kain's.

It is not very often you come across a young man of Jack's age that has such passion for fishing. This young man can fish and talk the fish talk. He and Greg had a great time bantering back and forth about the fishing, gear and boats. Young Jack seems to know a few things (per his scouring of fishing magazines, per his Father).

I do hope that Jack continues to love the sport of fishing and has plenty of opportunities to fish.

What a wonderful way to spend time with a child, boy or girl. Sometimes we all get caught up in the daily grind of our lives and forget to take a day off to enjoy ourselves. As parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles or a friend of a friend we have the opportunities to provide the next generation with the experience of fishing. Make it goal for 2012.

*Clearwater River Fishing:

How about surprising that special person on your Christmas List with a Steelhead Fishing Trip on the Clearwater River near Orofino, Idaho. Nothing beats a clear, crisp day out on the river fishing for Big B Run Steelhead.
